DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

The following students have completed Departmental Honors theses. These theses represent at least two semesters of research and writing. The theses are approved by a three-member faculty committee after an oral examination. Copies of the theses are bound and housed in the Greenville University library.

Jessie Chappel – The Effects of Kavalactones on Cholinergic Signaling and Acetylcholinesterase Activity in Caenorhabditis Elegans

Ethan Clements – Differences in Botfly Infection Rate Between Male and Female Peromyscus

Marjory Coates – Dairy Farming: An Assessment of the Sustainability of Dairy Farms Across the United States and in Bond County

Ye Jin (Victoria) Han - A Two-Charge Theory of Gravity

Daniel Forsberg – The Modern Day Sisyphus: An Intergenerational Commentary Through the Eyes of a Food Service Worker

MCALLASTER SCHOLARS

Named in honor of former Greenville Professor of Literature, Elva McAllaster, the McAllaster Scholars Program is GU's honors program. Students who are accepted as McAllaster Scholars must meet several requirements to graduate as McAllaster Scholars, including: maintenance of a cumulative 3.5 GPA and completion of a unique honors general education sequence. Students graduating as McAllaster Scholars are identified by a gold medallion suspended from an orange and black neck ribbon.

Jessie Chappel

Marjory Coates

ALPHA PHI SIGMA

First founded in 1942 and fully established in 1976, Alpha Phi Sigma is the national criminal justice honor society. The purpose of this honorary is to promote excellence in scholarship and performance.

Megan Barrett
Wyatt Carter

Anna McNew
William Frailey

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta (TriBeta) is an honor society for students, particularly undergraduates, dedicated to improving the understanding and appreciation of biological study and extending boundaries of human knowledge through scientific research. Since its founding in 1922, more than 200,000 persons have been accepted into lifetime membership, and more than 626 chapters have been established throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. Originally established in 1957, Greenville University re-established their chapter in 2019.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Phi Alpha Theta is an international honor society for students who have a minimum of 12 hours of history, with a grade point average of 3.1 or above in those courses. Over 200 history students have been inducted into Phi Alpha Theta during the past 40 years.

Faith Hohman

Max Schimmelpfenning

PSI CHI

Psi Chi is the national honor society in psychology, founded in 1929 for the purpose of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship, and advancing the science of psychology. Chapters, such as the one at Greenville University, make active attempts to nourish and stimulate professional growth through programs designed to augment and enhance the regular curriculum and to provide practical experience and fellowship through affiliation with the chapter.

ACADEMIC HONORS

SUMMA CUM LAUDE denotes a superior scholarship record with a grade point average of 3.95 or higher and successful completion of Departmental Honors. MAGNA CUM LAUDE is awarded to those who attain a 3.85 or higher average. CUM LAUDE is awarded to those who attain a minimum 3.50 average in all college coursework. Students who have met the scholarship standard but not the other honor requirements are listed HONORABLE MENTION. A black and orange braid is worn by graduates receiving degrees with honors.

Graduation honors are awarded on the basis of scholastic average. The honors noted in the commencement program are final for December and January graduates and tentative for May graduates. Students graduating later do not have honors indicated in this program. Listing of the student's name does not guarantee degree completion.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The academic costume, which adds interest and color to these commencement exercises, is as old in history as are colleges and universities – that is, more than 800 years old. In the preceding centuries where there was no central heating, these served many practical purposes.

In today's academic procession, the style of gown and the hood of each faculty member indicate the degree held by the individual. The velvet neckcloth hue denotes the degree and the satin lining colors are those of the college or university from which the wearer was graduated.

Each college attempts to maintain distinctiveness of design. Greenville University is the only American institution with the black and single orange chevron hood. The most recent regalia designed for Greenville University are the robes worn by the Board of Trustees. The black robes with four orange velvessa bars on wide, cuffed sleeves and panels of the same fabric extending down the front, were first worn in November 1970, at the inauguration of the seventh president of the University.
